Is social media right to ban US President Donald Trump?

Yes, because Trump disturbed the country's peace and his words prompted his supporters to cause chaos in Washington.

Let's picture this. You secretly take other people's videos and place them online. You bad-mouth others on an online platform. Should you be punished for your wrongdoing? Yes, definitely.

I believe in free speech but we should not make remarks that will have a bad influence on others and cause confusion in society.

Trump got off lightly with just a ban. He should have faced stiffer penalties from social media platforms.
